

A Book Colloquium on Biblical Law
discussing:

*God, Justice and Society:
Aspects of Law and Legality in the Bible*

(Oxford University Press, 2011)

by Jonathan Burnside

(available at www.oup.com and www.jubilee-centre.org)

19th/20th March 2012, Faculty of Divinity, University of Cambridge

The Cambridge Inter-Faith Programme (CIP) and the Kirby Laing Institute for Christian Ethics (KLICE) are joining together to present a colloquium on Biblical Law discussing God, Justice, and Society: Aspects of Law and Legality in the Bible by Jonathan Burnside. The Colloquium will consist of five sessions. In the first three, plenary speakers from each of the three Abrahamic faiths will engage with themes raised in the book, followed by responses from Dr. Burnside and others. In the final two, panellists will address specific ethical issues raised by the book. The programme is below.

We would welcome your participation in this event. For further information, contact Will Kynes at will.kynes@keble.ox.ac.uk. To register, complete the form below and return to: Administrator, KLICE, Tyndale House, 36 Selwyn Gardens, Cambridge, CB3 9BA.
